

Evaluating the impact and effectiveness of the audit committee

An audit committee's effectiveness should be judged by the contribution it makes to and the beneficial impact it has on the authority's business. Since it is primarily an advisory body, it can be more difficult to identify how the audit committee has made a difference. Evidence of effectiveness will usually be characterised as 'influence', 'persuasion' and 'support'.

The improvement tool below can be used to support a review of effectiveness. It identifies the broad areas where an effective audit committee will have impact.

The table includes examples of what the audit committee might do to have impact in each of these areas.

The third area includes key indicators that might be expected to be in place if arrangements are in fact effective. These indicators are not directly within the control of the audit committee, as it is an advisory body. They do provide an indication that the authority has put in place adequate and effective arrangements, which is the purpose of the committee.

Use the tool for discussion and evaluation of the strengths and weakness of the committee, identifying areas for improvement.

This is evidenced by robust assurance over culture, ethics and counter fraud arrangements.

Promoting effective public reporting to the authority's stakeholders and local community and measures to improve transparency and accountability.

- Working with key members/the PCC and chief constable to improve their understanding of the AGS and their contribution to it.
 - Improving how the authority discharges its responsibilities for public reporting – for example, better targeting the audience and use of plain English.
 - Reviewing whether decision making through partnership organisations remains transparent and publicly accessible and encourages greater transparency.
 - Publishing an annual report from the committee.
- The authority meets the statutory deadlines for financial reporting with accounts for audit of an appropriate quality.
 - The external auditor completed the audit of the financial statements with minimal adjustments and an unqualified opinion.
 - The authority has published its financial statements and AGS in accordance with statutory guidelines.
 - The AGS is underpinned by a robust evaluation and is an accurate assessment of the adequacy of governance arrangements.

OVERALL QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER

- 1 Does the committee proactively seek assurance over the key indicators?
- 2 How proactive is the committee in responding to aspects of governance, risk, control and audit that need change or improvement?
- 3 Are recommendations from the committee taken seriously by those responsible for taking action?

REPORTING RESULTS

The outcome of the review can be used to inform the committee's annual report.
